Message from Head Teacher

Dear Parents/Carers,

In a true Christ Church spirit, the children in Shakespeare class have got involved in an amazing project. Every week, a group of children will be going to Snowdrop House to work with the elderly residents, doing art activities.

Judging by the enthusiastic comments I received from the first group of children after their Wednesday's visit, it was a great success. The children enjoyed the activities prepared for them, above all they loved talking to and spending time with the residents.

Mrs Lyon and Mrs D'Arcy, who accompanied the children, were full of praises for our children, who in their opinion, were helpful, friendly and extremely polite. Although I would have not expected anything different from our children, it is still nice to hear so many positive comments. I am also delighted that through this small project, we can support and contribute to our local community.

A big thanks to the children that took part in the visit, Elsa B, Jessica D, Blake C, Harrison S, Callum F, Bessie G, Charlie C, Katie H, Lara W and Bertie RE.

Charlotte Bunny's Christmas

It was Christmas Eve and snow had begun to fall from the clouds and sun set sky.

Charlotte Bunny, the village poet, just finishes her last poem of the day. The sounds of the sweet singing choir, the people greeting each other and the smell of mince pies and Christmas pudding reminded her of past Christmases!

Snowdrop House Visit

Friday 25th November 2017 Edition: 11

Christ Church Contact

Yesterday, 10 of Shakespeare class went to Snowdrop House, accompanied by Mrs D'Arcy and Mrs Lyon, we had a lovely chat along the way. When we got there we got introduced to the staff, they were very nice.

Then we went to the cinema room and put our coats down. Then we went to the main room and did some art. We made snow-globes at the table, some of us helped the elderly people draw and make some snow-globes.

When we finished we had a nice conversation with all of them. To finish off all the lovely things we did there, we had a carol sing along. We sang the twelve days of Christmas to them, it was really fun. Then we walked back to school.

The Bug Hotel

At lunchtime Fletcher H, Rebecca A, Jessica D, Amy A, Dainius G, Francesca C, Emily S and Mason D all in Year 6 decided to build a bug hotel from various unused materials to keep the bugs sheltered for the winter months. Rebekah A "it is very relaxing to build and lots of children wanted to join in. We love it so much and do it every lunch time. We believe in our fellow bugs and we want to help them this winter".

We know that everyone will respect our handy work and help us keep our bugs safe. Everyone is welcome to come and look but please do not touch. Mason and Fletcher will be making a sign to remind people. Written by Fletcher H & Rebekah A

Parking for School Drop Off

We have recently received several complaints from the Health Centre and local residents regarding parents parking across drive ways and inappropriately. Please take extra care when parking for school drop off and pick up's and of course you can use the Kibes Lane car park with a free 30 minute ticket.
